

March 27, 2007

Madam Speaker,

The American Institute of Mathematics, MIT, Cornell University, University of Michigan, University of Utah

The breakthrough involves defining the detailed structure of a geometric object called E8, the largest of the

Connections between E8 and string theory indicate that physical applications of E8 will eventually emerge

The participants are to be commended for their work that has expanded the limits of human knowledge and